Sector: ITES

Company Overview

An ITES company dealing with a lot of company for providing their essential services. They were providing the essential IT services along with website development, and application development. They had the following wings - IT Engineers, Developers and Testers each having stalwarts of its kinds.

The Challenge

Inspite of having stalwarts in each department they had to rely on other vendors for security assessments, primarily Vulnerability Assessments and Penetration Testing. It was becoming a costly affair for them and difficult to manage. They had to wait for days for the vendors to come back with the reports. Post that they had to fix those issues and again send back for re-assessments.

They decided to go for a platform which could help them to generate those reports within few hours in a fully automated manner without relying on anybody. They took the Zeron Platform the Security Assessment section solved their problems. Not only with the vulnerabilities but also with the recommendations on what to do to fix those.
